SUMMARY

I am a Computer Science student at Ramanujan College, with strong skills in Python, C++, HTML, and CSS. My experience spans technical leadership roles and creative direction, where I've successfully designed impactful web applications and multimedia assets.

PROJECTS

TEDx Ramanujan College Website ↗

Devised and deployed a responsive website with dynamic content management, handling registrations using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, and MySQL.

MoodLens (Emotion Detection Software) ↗

Conceptualized comprehensive SRS documentation and developed the working website for a mood tracking software, offering an intuitive interface and personalized emotional insights for users.

Interactive Single-Layer Perceptron ↗

Created a JavaScript-based perceptron for classifying points with a linear decision boundary, incorporating interactive parameter adjustments and real-time visualization of the training process.

Aesthetic Clock Extension and Website ↗

Enhanced a real-time clock Chrome extension and website with lightweight performance and a minimalist design.

Stopwatch Chrome Extension ↗

Implemented a functional stopwatch Chrome extension for timing activities, focused on ease of use and lightweight performance.
